OCEAN YOUTH TRUST SCOTLAND

Almost everyone has an adventurous side and at OYT Scotland we can help you discover yours. Our adventures are exciting, challenging and action-packed, with lots of opportunities to broaden your horizons. Most of the people that join our boats have never sailed before - you don't need any sailing knowledge or special kit to take part. Life on board is very hands-on: you steer the boat, navigate, help change the sails, keep a lookout and go ashore and explore. Our voyages are not all about sailing either, they are also about people and you can learn a lot about yourself and, at the end of your voyage, take away new skills and memories that will last a lifetime.

THE ISLAND TRUST

Sail Training gives young people from all walks of life the opportunity to develop character, build self-esteem and an awareness of the needs of others through teamwork and the shared adventure. At The Island Trust, groups of young people, many of whom are disadvantaged or disabled, are encouraged to work as a team setting sails, steering, preparing meals and participating in life on board. We take groups of young people with all levels of ability and provide adventurous activities for individuals on our Teenage Sailing Weeks and The Tall Ships Races.

SEA SANCTUARY

Sea Sanctuary is an innovative charity and a breath of sea air for those wanting a unique treatment to improve their mental health. We take therapy out of the office and onto the water to deliver mental health training and education on board Fire Dancer, our 42-foot Holman Sloop wooden yacht. We work with people of all ages experiencing a range of mental health and wellbeing issues, tailoring our programmes according to their needs and using clinically proven techniques, accepting referrals from all over the UK. We also have a land-based facility, Water's Edge; and The ARC, a floating wellbeing hub on the Penryn River offering night and day services.

TRINITY SAILING FOUNDATION

Sail Training is not so much about learning to sail. It is about helping young people to discover more about themselves, and begin to take steps to improve their future. It is an adventure, but each voyage is carefully structured to change attitudes, raise expectations and motivate. For many it is a rewarding and exciting opportunity to get away from it all. For some it is genuinely life changing.

DISCOVERY SAILING PROJECT

DSP aims to offer to everybody, regardless of age, ability, background or status, the experience, challenge and adventure that Sail Training provides. We aim to promote the development of people and enable them to achieve their full potential. We also aim to encourage individuals or groups of people, who might not otherwise have the opportunity to experience Sail Training, through the awarding of bursaries. We participate in National and International Sail Training events with the aim of building and fostering international and intercultural understanding between young people. On board you will be involved in all aspects of sailing the boat, learning valuable skills for life. At DSP everyone is welcome including people with hearing and visual impairment.

JUBILEE SAILING TRUST

The Jubilee Sailing Trust is unique in that it owns two specially designed Tall Ships which are purpose-built to enable disabled and able-bodied people to live and work on board. Facilities include speaking compasses and specially designed lifts and decks to enable wheelchair access. There are two elements to the JST's mission. One is to overcome prejudices and misconceptions about disability among able-bodied people, and the second, to enable people with a disability to achieve their own personal goals in an environment that is designed to be inclusive.

RONA SAILING PROJECT

The RSP is a volunteer-based Sail Training organisation, running three ocean going vessels from its base on the Hamble River. We use the medium of the sea because it is an unforgiving natural environment that provides a sense of risk and adventure. The large sailing vessels require hard physical work and cannot be sailed without teamwork, both on deck and down below. While young people from all backgrounds and abilities aged 14 to 25 make up the majority of those who sail with us, we also specialise in voyages for adults with disabilities and therapeutic voyages for adults with mental health problems, long term conditions and those in recovery.

ELLEN MACARTHUR CANCER TRUST

The Ellen MacArthur Cancer Trust takes young people recovering from cancer sailing, building confidence and friendships after treatment. Working with hospitals throughout the UK, the emphasis of our trips is on teamwork and fun, with sailing as the perfect catalyst. Bonding with others in recovery and helping a yacht can be extremely empowering. The young people are invited back annually to continue their Sail Training, and once they turn 18 can return as adult volunteers, providing positive role models for those sailing for the first time. Young people who are not in contact with one of our hospital coordinators can self-refer via the email address below. Trips also run from Largs in Scotland.

MARINE SOCIETY AND SEA CADETS

The Marine Society and Sea Cadets is a maritime charity supporting both Sea Cadets and lifelong learning for the mariner. The Sea Cadets have nearly 400 units, known as Training Ships, across the UK. Our aim is to offer young people nautical fun and adventure coupled with the development of life skills. This can encompass catering through to engineering and, specifically when afloat, navigation, seamanship and living in and operating a sea going vessel; sail or power. Places afloat with the MSSC are generally restricted to cadet or uniformed organisations.
