Almost everyone has an adventurous side and at DCT Scotland we can help you discover yours. Our adventures are exciting and action-packed, with lots of opportunities to break your horizons. Most of the people that join our boats have never sailed before – you don’t need any sailing knowledge or special kit to take part. Life on board is very hands-on; you steer the boat, navigate, help change the sails, keep a look out and go ashore and explore. Our voyages are not all about sailing either; they are also about people and you can learn a lot about yourself at the end of your voyage, take away new skills and memories that will last a lifetime.

TRINITY SAILING FOUNDATION
Sail Training is not so much about learning to sail. It is about helping young people to discover more about themselves, and how best to cope with their future. It is an adventure, but each voyage is carefully structured to challenge attitudes, raise expectations and build confidence, leading to success and achieving opportunity to get away from it all. For some it’s a little journey of life changing.
